THE POLICE STATION CONTRACT.

Saloon Licenses Granted and Refused—Other Matters Attended to by the Commission.

The Board of Police Commissioners held its regular weekly session yesterday afternoon, Mayor Hazard presiding, and Messrs. Collins, Dexter, Knox and Lewis present.

The Chief's report for the month of December last was taken up, and filed after being read.

In the matter of the application of Guizand and Maset, for permission to open a new saloon at No. 708 Temple street, the Chief reported that although the petitioners had obtained the requisite number of signatures to their application, there were several protests against the granting of the same, and the feeling expressed by the residents in the vicinity of the proposed saloon was very strongly in opposition. On motion of Mr. Dexter, the application was denied.

The application of Gual and Wernick, for a new license at No. 122 Aliso street, was granted, the Chief having reported favorably thereon.

A communication was received from Mrs. S. Henry, a resident of No. 53 Howard street, complaining against Fred Volkmer, the proprietor of the Point saloon, at the junction of New Main and Alameda streets, in which she stated that the saloon-keeper harbored her husband and encouraged him to spend all his earnings for liquor and in playing cards, against her protests. She further alleged that when she went to the saloon to induce her husband to return home, she was rudely rebuffed by Volkmer, who denied her admittance to the place. She, therefore, asked the board to take such action in the matter as it might deem proper.

Mr. Knox was of the opinion that an example ought to be made of such saloon-keepers who made a practice of furnishing liquor to habitual drunkards, and though willing to have the matter referred to a committee for investigation, intimated that the revocation of Volkmer's license would meet with his approval.

Mr. Collins, however, thought that it would meet with the requirements of this case if the Chief was instructed to forbid the sale of liquor in future to Henry. Mr. Knox's motion for an investigation prevailed, and Messrs. Knox, Collins and the Chief were appointed as a committee for this purpose by the Chair.

Chief Glass reported that he had received several complaints about the Chinese, who were apparently moving up in the city from Chinatown, and had therefrom detailed Detective Wallin to report into the matter. That officer reported that a Chinese lottery game was being now run openly in a back room of the Louvre saloon, near the corner of Main and First streets, and that he had bought a ticket there upon solicitation. Another room was fitted up as a club room, with poker tables, etc.

The Chief further reported that there were also complaints about the sale of tickets for the Louisiana Lottery on the streets, and as this was a direct violation of the law, he asked the board for instructions as to the course he should pursue in the matter.

Mr. Lewis said that he had been informed that boys of tender years were allowed to play the Chinese lotteries, and he therefore moved that a committee be appointed to investigate both this and the Louisiana Lottery scheme. Mayor Hazard said that there was no question about all lottery schemes being violations of the law, but it was also a violation of the ordinance. The board listened to the evidence, and in fixing the sentence it is the duty of the Court to consider the evidence so far as it tends to show the nature of the crime, the circumstances under which it was committed, and all that, with the view to determine the amount of punishment which ought to be inflicted. I do not think it is the province of the jury to say anything about the circumstances, but the Court. The only effect of the recommendation of this jury would have been simply the opinion of twelve men who heard the evidence as to the merits of the case and as to the severity of the punishment. But the Court, in passing sentence, must assume that the defendant is guilty. He passes sentence, not upon an innocent man, not upon a man of whose guilt there is a reasonable doubt.

At this point the Court was interrupted by Mr. Williams, who stated that the defendant preferred to be incarcerated at San Quentin rather than Folsom, on account of the heat at Folsom during the summer.

The Court (continuing)—but under the decisions of our Supreme Court, under the law, a man is guilty so far as the sentence is concerned beyond question. Mr. Garrett, you stand up.

The defendant—May I say a word, your honor? Just one word only?

The Court—Well, what is it?

The defendant—As the matter has been brought up, I desire to thank the Court for its unbiased and impartial rulings during the long and tedious trial. That is my opinion.

The Court—You have had, Mr. Garrett, a fair and impartial trial so far as the Court knows, and certainly that was the intention of the Court, and I believe the intention of the jury. There has been a patient investigation of the case, and the verdict has been rendered as stated, finding you guilty. There has been a recommendation for mercy. It is somewhat difficult for the Court to see upon what the recommendation is based. The victim, or the accomplice of your crime, might be recommended to mercy upon the ground that, at the beginning, at least, she was so young as to be probably unconscious or ignorant of the nature of the act. An ordinary seducer might plead in extenuation that he was influenced by his youthful passions, and that probably he in good faith really intended to perform the marriage which would cure the wrong committed. Even a brother or sister who might commit the act of which you are convicted might plead that they were young and did not know, did not fully realize the nature of the act.

A communication was received from the City Clerk to the effect that the board's suggestion in relation to the erection of a range in the City Jail had been adopted, and that the matter of furnishing the Chief's office had been referred to the Committee on Public Buildings.

and blindly contracted for any amount, when the board could have had the same done by contract for half the sum. Messrs. Lewis and Collins said that Skinner had offered to do the work by contract for $1,500, and the matter was discussed generally at some length.

A number of demands, amounting in the aggregate to $755.62, were approved as read.

The matter of Officer Hawley's salary as "acting overseer of the chain-gang," having been protested, came up for discussion, but as it had already been referred to the Council, no further action was taken.

The Chief asked that he be authorized to make connection with the fire alarm bell in the City Hall tower, so that in case of a given signal necessity, he could at a given signal summon the whole department together.

On motion of Mr. Knox he was authorized to have the work performed.

The board then adjourned.

GARRETT'S SENTENCE.

He Gets the Full Extent of the Law.

Yesterday Captain F. M. Garrett, convicted by a jury for the crime of incest committed on his natural daughter Malia, now Mrs. Edgcomb, came before Judge Lucien Shaw for sentence. The jury which found him guilty did so with a recommendation to the Court to deal mercifully with the culprit. Much speculation has been indulged in by the public since Friday as to what the sentence would be.

When the case was called yesterday, W. T. Williams, for the prisoner, moved to have a new trial granted. Williams made a short argument on law points, and then Major Horace Bell followed with a long argument to the Court on the same proposition. Assistant District Attorney McComas asked the Court if it desired to hear any argument in reply to that advanced by the attorneys for the defense. The Judge replied that he did not, and proceeded to express his views as follows:

The Court—I think a good portion of the argument which counsel have made upon this occasion would have been more appropriate upon a motion for a new trial. The questions as to the sufficiency of the evidence are not proper subjects for consideration upon a plea to the Court. There is no doubt that there has been a good deal of public clamor in this case which was probably adverse to the defendant, but I don't think that that had any effect on the trial of the case, and I am very clear that so far as the action of the Court was concerned, it was as favorable to the defendant as he ought to have asked, and certainly as favorable as the law would allow, so far as I know; and if the public clamor had any effect at all, it tended to make the Court more lenient towards him than it otherwise would have been. As to the jury, they were cautioned against reading any newspapers or allowing anybody to talk in their presence about the case, and I am pretty sure that they have obeyed the instructions of the Court, and, therefore, they have been excluded entirely from any influence of public clamor. There during the trial, but I do not remember ever seeing any demonstrations from them which would indicate a preference one way or the other. So I think the verdict must have been the result of a consideration of the evidence in the case, uninfluenced by outside pressure of any sort. As to whether the recommendation of the jury was caused by a reasonable doubt in their minds, I cannot say, but think it could not have been for that reason. They were fairly and thoroughly instructed as to their duty in the case, and repeatedly instructed that if they had any reasonable doubt as to the guilt or innocence of the defendant they should render a verdict acquitting him, not to recommend him to mercy. The jury was one but one duty to perform in the trial of the case, and that is to render the verdict, either finding the defendant guilty or not guilty. It is no part of their province to recommend the defendant to the mercy of the Court. They do not have the task of fixing the amount of punishment. The Court listens to the evidence, and in fixing the sentence it is the duty of the Court to consider the evidence so far as it tends to show the nature of the crime, the circumstances under which it was committed, and all that, with the view to determine the amount of punishment which ought to be inflicted. I do not think it is the province of the jury to say anything about the circumstances, but the Court. The only effect of the recommendation of this jury would have been simply the opinion of twelve men who heard the evidence as to the merits of the case and as to the severity of the punishment. But the Court, in passing sentence, must assume that the defendant is guilty. He passes sentence, not upon an innocent man, not upon a man of whose guilt there is a reasonable doubt.

At this point the Court was interrupted by Mr. Williams, who stated that the defendant preferred to be incarcerated at San Quentin rather than Folsom, on account of the heat at Folsom during the summer.

The Court—Well, what is it?

The Court—You have had, Mr. Garrett, a fair and impartial trial so far as the Court knows, and certainly that was the intention of the Court, and I believe the intention of the jury. Even a brother or sister who might commit the act of which you are convicted might plead that they were young and did not know, did not fully realize the nature of the act.

A communication was received from the City Clerk to the effect that the board's suggestion in relation to the erection of a range in the City Jail had been adopted, and that the matter of furnishing the Chief's office had been referred to the Committee on Public Buildings.

Mayor Hazard stated that during the past week the Council had sent in bills to the extent of over $2,000, for work done upon the new Police Headquarters, for his approval, and he wished to call the attention of the board to the fact that the Council went to work and took the matter out of the Commissioners' hands, own loins, a person to whom he owes every duty and obligation, for whose well-being and moral purity he is responsible, for whose birth he is responsible, and to whom he ought to feel every affection that can move the human breast almost, and deliberately brings that person to a life of misery, impurity, and woe almost as if there is anything to be said in mitigation of the crime. It certainly is the most aggravated case, the crime of which you have been convicted, that could be committed. Whether you are guilty or not has been decided by the jury; it is not for the Court to say anything upon that subject, but, you being guilty, it is certainly a case of the most aggravated character. It is the judgment of the Court that you be imprisoned in the State's Prison at San Quentin for the period of ten years. The Sheriff will see that the sentence is carried into execution.

The sentence is the full period allowed by law for the crime of which Garrett was found guilty. If the verdict is just there will be little question that the sentence is so. The public will applaud it. Garrett will probably be taken to San Quentin today, and Deputy Sheriff Dennis Kearney will probably perform the task. It is hardly likely that an appeal will be taken in the case. It was a remarkably fair trial so far as the defense is concerned, for the Judge refused nothing that had the least bearing on the case in the evidence given, and he was as liberal in his instructions to the jury.

PUBLIC WORKS.

A List of Places Inspected Yesterday.

The Board of Public Works yesterday afternoon took a short trip about the city to see what the various petitioners desired done in the way of improvement. Most of the petitions were for cross-walks which had been rendered necessary by the late rain. Temple street was found to be in a very bad condition, and it was almost impossible for teams to get over the hill. The street department was busy in filling up the holes with gravel.

On Los Angeles street, opposite the Plaza, the board looked at the buildings of L. N. Breed and L. Baucher, which project on the sidewalk two or three feet. Mr. Baucher asked permission to have his building remain as it was until that of Mr. Breed was set back, and the board thought he should be given the required permission. Mr. Breed, it was stated, has an agreement with the city, allowing his building to remain as they are until the lease of his tenant expires.

The property owners on High street asked to be allowed to macadamize from Alpine to Marchessault streets. The board concluded that something should be done, and will recommend that the City Engineer be instructed to define the lines of the street.

The rest of the day was spent in looking up points where cross-walks are desired, and a large list will probably be recommended on Monday.

A CELEBRATED CASE.

Mrs. Colton's Suit Against Stanford et al.

HISTORY OF THE LITIGATION.

The Supreme Court Affirms the Judgment in Favor of Defendants.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the Herald.]

SAN FRANCISCO, January 2.—The case of Mrs. D. O. Colton against Leland Stanford, C. P. Huntington and others, which attracted much public attention during its trial before the Superior Court several years ago, was decided by the Supreme Court today in favor of the defendants.

General D. O. Colton was formerly associated with Stanford and others in the ownership of the Central Pacific railroad and a number of other extensive enterprises, involving many millions of dollars of capital. General Colton died in October, 1878, and about a year later settlement was made between Mrs. Colton and the parties who had been associated with her husband in the railroad enterprises. An agreement was signed by all parties at the time the settlement was made, but about two years afterwards Mrs. Colton claimed to have discovered many errors in the calculations upon which the agreement had been based, and in May, 1882, she commenced suit against Stanford and others for the rescission of the agreement, on the ground that it had been procured through false and fraudulent representations. The defendants, in their answer, denied the charges of fraud, and averred that Colton, during his association with them, had fraudulently appropriated to his own use large sums of money belonging to defendants.

After a trial lasting nearly two years, judgment was rendered in favor of the defendants. From this judgment Mrs. Colton appealed. The decision of the Supreme Court today affirms the judgment of the lower court and denies the motion for a new trial.

In passing upon the points raised by plaintiff on the motion for a new trial, the Supreme Court follows closely the reasoning and findings of Judge Temple. In fact that judge's decision is sustained at every point. It is affirmed that Stanford, Huntington, Hopkins and Colton were not partners in a legal sense, but that their relations as railroad builders and managers of corporations were of a confidential and fiduciary character only. The death of Colton dissolved these trust relations within the meaning of the code, and Mrs. Colton only succeeded to his interests. She did not and could not have succeeded to the relations which her husband bore to the railroad companies. As a matter of fact she did not depend on their statement of the condition of her husband's affairs, but she called in Samuel W. Wilson, a distinguished lawyer, and Lloyd Tevis, a skillful financier, to procure a settlement. They expended six months in examining Colton's affairs, and finally succeeded in effecting a compromise which Mrs. Colton accepted, and with her eyes open and by the advice of her advisers, signed.

The Court positively refuses, as did Judge Temple, to rescind the agreement made in this way, either on legal or equitable grounds. The opinion states that plaintiff does not show that any fraud was perpetrated upon her; on the contrary, every facility for examining into the accounts of the railroad corporations managed by the deceased, was offered her agents. The Court finds nothing else, either in law or evidence, upon which to grant a new trial.

SOMETHING IN THE COFFEE.

A Whole Family Poisoned by a Jealous Suitor.

JOULET, Ill., January 2.—John Schaefer, of Mokena, has been landed in jail here, charged with poisoning the family of John Dahl, with whom he worked on a farm near Mokena. The family consisted of Dahl, his mother, aged 70; a girl named Mina Schenck, and a hired man named Schiffer. On New Year's Day the girl prepared dinner, and when the coffee was served each member noticed a bitter taste. The stuff was thrown away, and a new lot made. This was also bitter, but not enough so to prevent the family from partaking of it freely. After dinner all became extremely sick. The hired man and girl at once drank a lot of fresh milk, which caused vomiting, and saved their lives. Dahl and his mother died in a few hours. A white powder was found in the coffee, and Schaefer, who was a rival suitor with Dahl for the hand of the Schenck girl, was at once suspected. When the Sheriff arrested him this morning, he tried to commit suicide with a razor.

ROUGH WEATHER.

Terrible Gales Recently Experienced on the Atlantic.

NEW YORK, January 2.—Captain Lord, of the British steamer Croma, which arrived from Middleboro, reports: "We experienced the roughest weather I have ever known. Up to December 17th we had a succession of furious gales. The ship was blown off into a trough of the sea, although going at full speed, and became unmanageable. We stopped the engines and used a plentiful supply of oil which materially aided in breaking the crests of the waves. However, we shipped one fearful sea which carried everything before it, smashing one boat and damaging others, washing away part of the flying bridge and injuring several of the crew. The engineer says part of this sea fell down the funnel, the top of which is fifty-three feet above water. The water came rushing through the tubes in such a volume as nearly to put the fires out, and caused a great commotion among the men below. On the 18th it blew a heavy gale, and on the 20th the wind again attained the force of a hurricane. During the night we shipped a tremendous sea over the bows. It swept away everything in its way, carrying the wreckage from the main deck over the upper bridge, about twenty-five feet high, and finally making its exit over the stern."

FOOLED HIM.

A Burglar Brought to a Halt With a Pair of Slippers.

PRESCOTT, Ariz., January 4.—As Deputy Sheriff Orick Jackson and Henry Goldwater were returning home from a New Year's ball at 2 o'clock this morning, they discovered a burglar in the store of the T. S. Dray estate. The burglar started to run, and the two gave chase for three or four blocks, when Deputy Jackson pulled his dancing slippers from his overcoat and commanded him to throw up his hands. Mistaking them in the darkness for deadly weapons, the command was complied with, and the burglar, who proved to be Harry Gordon, was marched off to jail. Numerous petty burglaries have recently been committed in town, and while he has been suspected, evidence could not be obtained to fasten the crime on him.

Public Debt Statement.

WASHINGTON, January 2.—The public debt statement was issued today as follows: Interest bearing debt, principal, $829,897,462; interest, $10,088,447; total, $839,985,909. Debt on which interest has ceased since maturity, principal and interest, $1,996,592; debt bearing no interest, $708,586,583; total debt, principal, $1,600,583,640; interest, $10,240,414; total, $1,610,824,054; total debt, less available cash items, $1,083,548,054; net cash in Treasury, $30,555,143; debt, less cash in Treasury, December 1889, $1,056,081,095; decrease in debt during month, $3,128,094; decrease of debt since January 30, 1889, $23,693,710. Total cash in Treasury as shown by Treasurer's general account, $613,766,911.

The Sugar Trust Dissolving.

NEW YORK, January 2.—Notice of action in the Supreme Court for dissolution of the sugar trust, and asking for the appointment of a receiver, was filed in Brooklyn late on Tuesday afternoon by the North River Sugar Refining Company. A member of the trust, Henry Winthrop Gray, is named as receiver. The document says the partnership (trust) was entered into August 12, 1889. The appointment of a receiver is asked to take possession of all the property of the trust, many millions in value. The court is asked to restrain defendants from disposing of any of the property of the trust, and from paying out any further moneys or otherwise disposing of assets.

The Rubber Trust.

TRENTON, N. J., January 2.—It is stated that negotiations which have been in progress for some time with a view to the establishment of a rubber trust, are about completed. British capitalists, it is said, are to take an interest amounting to $4,000,000, and push the stock in England and Scotland. While the identity of the capitalists has not been discovered, they are believed to be the same who bought up a number of American breweries recently. The trust will not take the active management of the local concerns, but will dictate a policy of unity of action in all business dealings.

An Electric Plant Burned.

NEW YORK, January 2.—The town shops of the Edison Electric Illuminating Company, on Pearl street, burned this morning. The current, generated upon the dynamo in the shop supplied 18,000 incandescent lights in the downtown districts, most of which burn all day in the banks and offices, below Fulton street. All went out at a quarter past six o'clock, by the shifting of the course of the supply. Superintendent Smith hoped to have them all relighted before noon. The building was gutted; loss $100,000.

Railroad Strikers.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., January 2.—A telegram was received from Terre Haute last night, by the Strike Committee, notifying them that orders had been sent to Mattoon, Illinois, for the Peoria, Decatur and Evansville employees to be ready to join the strikers today, and instructing the committee here to make the same arrangement with the Louisville, Evansville and St. Louis air line employees. Representatives have been sent from here to Mattoon, Illinois, and Huntington, Indiana, to see that the orders go into effect.

Governor Brackett's First Message.

BOSTON, January 2.—Governor Brackett sent his first message to the Massachusetts Legislature today. On the subject of ballot reform he says: "The first elections under what is popularly known as the Australian system, recently held, demonstrated the great advantages of the new method of voting. In view of its success, and the importance of primary meetings in influencing elections, I suggest that you consider the advisability of legislation applying the new method as far as practicable to such meetings."

Cowboys and Redskins.

DENVER, January 2.—A special from Santa Fe, N. M., says: In southern Santa Fe county, Sunday, a Navajo Indian was accused by the Cox brothers of killing their cattle. The Indians fired upon the party, when a posse of ten organized and followed the band of Indians. The latter fired into them from ambush. Some fifty shots were exchanged. One Navajo was killed, but the cowmen were compelled to retreat. The citizens fear the encounter may lead to more serious results.

Shot His Mistress.

SAN FRANCISCO, January 2.—Mateo Desauti, an Italian fruit vender, early this morning attempted to murder Rosa Medici, because she refused to live with her long time. He fired at her with a revolver, but she turned suddenly and the bullet passed through her arm, breaking the bone. Desauti escaped, and has not been captured yet.

Tollier Officially Dead.

WASHINGTON, January 2.—The Department of State has been informed by the Minister of the United States to Mexico, of the execution, by shooting, at Guaymas, on the 9th of December, of J. J. Tollier, who assaulted a train of the Sonora Railway Company, in May, 1888, twelve miles from the Arizona frontier, in which assault two American citizens, Conductor L. Atkinson and Fireman W. Forbes were killed and the train robbed.

An Hotel Fire.

SAN FRANCISCO, January 2.—Fire broke out in a room on the third floor of the Grand Hotel this morning, owing to a defective grate. The flames were soon extinguished, though considerable damage was done to carpets and furniture by mud and water.

The State Capital.

SACRAMENTO, January 2.—The Governor has issued a land patent to R. M. Rogers for 120 acres of State University school land, in Los Angeles county.

The Governor today appointed C. P. Low and A. Hayman, of Santa Barbara, Directors of District Agricultural Society No. 19, Santa Barbara county.

Found in the River.

NEW YORK, January 2.—The body of Martin McAuliffe, of the Tombs prison, was found in the river at the foot of Sixth street this morning.

An Iron Firm Falls.

BELLEFOURTE, Pa., January 2.—The iron firm of Curtin & Co., of Roland, this county, has assigned. Liabilities about $200,000. The works were established about 1810.

The Act is Valid.

SAN FRANCISCO, January 2.—Judge Wallace has rendered a decision sustaining the validity of the act of the Legislature establishing the office of Supreme Court Commissioner.

Mistaken for a Burglar.

CINCINNATI, January 2.—Edward Sherman, machinist, was awakened early this morning by sounds of some one working at the lock of the door of his room. Thinking it was a burglar, he fired through the panel, and, upon opening the door, found he had mortally shot W. R. Phillips, a real estate agent, aged 73, who occupied the adjoining room, and had gone to Sherman's door by mistake.

The Buckeye Senatorship.

COLUMBUS, O., January 2.—The Senatorial contest is pretty much at a standstill today, as all the candidates have agreed not to press their claims before the members until the Senate and House caucuses for organization have been held. Brice and Thomas claim that they are taking no hand in the Speakership contest, but the impression prevails that friends of both are making use of this argument.

Famous Stallion Sold.

LEXINGTON, Ky., January 2.—The great trotting sire, Wilton, by George Wilkes, dam Allie by Rysdyck's Hambletonian, jointly owned heretofore by W. C. France and Bateman Brothers, was sold yesterday to the latter. The price is private, but is said to be the largest for which a stallion has ever been sold in America.

A Flattering Endorsement.

The judges on musical instruments at the Centennial Exhibition, Philadelphia, 1876, after severe tests of the pianos of more than forty different makers from all parts of the world recognized the merits of the Sohmer pianos, and wrote a flattering report on them, recommending for them the highest reward in their power to grant—a Medal of Merit and Diploma of Honor, which were unanimously decreed by the United States Centennial Commission.

Surface and Underground Storm Drains.In the report of the sewer engineers the suggestion to carry off the overflow of the hills on the surface of the streets running south from Sixth street is thus treated:It has been suggested to spread the storm water over a number of parallel streets so as to divide it, and thus make the stream in any one of them small enough to be unobjectionable. This expedient has been followed in smaller cities, and it should be followed wherever practicable and economical. Difficulties are in the way, however, when the quantity of water becomes great. Where valleys are sharply defined the water is almost always concentrated on one street, and if this concentration once requires an underground removal, then a spreading out below is no longer possible.For instance, the water from the Arroyo de los Reyes, draining about 1,500 acres, is naturally concentrated on Flower and Hope streets, which are situated at the lowest part of the ravine. If the water is put into underground drains on these streets it cannot again be brought to the surface to flow once more in the gutters.If the water which concentrates at Flower and Fourth streets were carried by a tunnel as far as Seventh and Flower, it could then be discharged upon the surface of the latter street, because the natural fall from Fourth to Seventh would bring the drain about even with the surface at that point, or perhaps a short distance below. Hope street is on the line with the natural outlet of the Arroyo de los Reyes, and there would be no need of an underground drain, if Hope street were covered with watertight pavement. It is admittedly impossible to make an underground canal that would carry off the rains from the hills that overflow the Arroyo de los Reyes during one of our abnormal storms. They will necessarily have to find their way to the river or the limits of the city through the several streets that run south and east. If Flower, Hope and the other parallel streets were paved as Sixth street is, the overflow of our great storms could be directed over those streets, and cause but very slight inconvenience. A large portion of any of these sudden overflows would find its way down Sixth street, and ultimately to the river. The water passing down the other streets has its ultimate outlet in Ballona creek. The question to our mind is whether it would not be more to the advantage to the city in every way if, instead of spending money in building costly underground canals to carry off the storm waters of our hills, we should provide for their drainage by paving the streets over which they would naturally overflow. If the streets named were paved with bituminous rock their whole length they would carry the waters of the heaviest storms to the river or beyond the city without causing the slightest inconvenience to our people.Something for a San Diego Con-templary.The San Diego Sun of the 30th of December contains a splenic article in which it accuses the HERALD of saying and doing all manner of things in spite of our Southern neighbor, as to all of which there is not the shadow of a simulacrum of the truth. This journal has always been courteous and appreciative of San Diego, but it has been loyal to its own superb city, and that is just where the shoe pinches. In ten successive editions of the ANNUAL ILLUSTRATED HER-ALD a cordial recognition was extended to the City of Bay and Climate, without money and without price. Of course we have no patience with or tolerance of the rot that San Diego will ever, at any time, or under any conceivable circumstances, approach within bowing acquaintance of the Angelic City in wealth or progress of any kind which looks in the direction of metropolitan status. The fact is that San Diegoans hate Los Angeles, and think that our people are imbued with a like feeling, which is pre-eminently not the case. In some instances here the brags of our vicarious neighbors are looked upon with good-humored contempt, in others with kindly indulgence, and in no instance seriously. Of course, our contemporary could not overlook the fact that a gentleman connected with the HERALD ran for Congress in 1886, and claims exultantly that San Diegoans beat him. Well, we think it quite likely that this is the fact, and we assure our contemporary that the individual in question forgives them from the bottom of his heart, and is quite willing to return good for evil. As to the allegation made by the Sun that this journal has ever underrated the mines of San Diego county, meaning, we suppose, those of the Julian, Banner andStonewall districts, in the splendid range of mountains lying behind the city of the bay, we simply pronounce it laughably false. This journal has always had words of appreciation and encouragement for those districts, and the writer knows and values the noble fellows who have developed them. It is true, on the other hand, that we have denounced the Santa Clara place "fakes" of Lower California, and so shall we ever, even though a Los Angeles newspaper should curry favor with a certain class of speculative San Diegans by telling whoppers about them every day in the week, as it did some months ago, even going to the extent of issuing a guide book to a "Fool's Paradise," which had at least one merit, viz., it showed its dupes how to return as well as how to go, by reading the text backward.

A Pretender to Meretricious Fame.

A dispatch from Williams, Colusa county, yesterday gives an account of the shooting of David Matheson by one Joe Casey, and goes on to say that Casey is a native of Louisiana, and that his father was hanged by the Vigilance Committee out of a third story window on Montgomery street, San Francisco, for the killing of James King of Wm. in 1856. This is the way in which history is writ. Joe Casey cannot be the son of James P. Casey, who killed James King of Wm. because he had no children, never lived in Louisiana, and was in San Francisco at the time Joe Casey was born, if he is only 37 years old. This dispatch recalls perhaps the most exciting times that were ever seen on this Coast. Casey was a New Yorker, and became a leading ward politician in San Francisco, and was what would now be termed a political boss. James King of Wm. had been a banker, but had transferred his business to the banking department of Adams' Express Company, and took a leading position in that bank.
When the financial institutions of San Francisco were struck by a cyclone, in 1854-5, Adams & Co. went under. King of Wm. then started the evening Bulletin and published a red-hot reform newspaper. He discovered that Casey had had a criminal episode in his career in New York, and exposed it in a sensational leader. Casey was furious, and meeting King of Wm. in the street, he shot him down. This assassination was speedily followed by the organization of the Vigilance Committee, whose headquarters were on the south side of Sacramento street, between Front and Drum. Casey and a man named Cora, who had killed U. S. Marshal Richardson, were taken from the jail to the rooms of the Committee, where they were tried and condemned to death.
They were both swung out of secondstory windows of the rooms the Committee occupied, and expired in the presence of a vast concourse of people.
Whilst the execution of Casey was being carried out, the funeral of James King of Wm. was passing through Montgomery street and the houses along the line of march were hung with black. The Vigilance Committee remained in session for over six months, and was the supreme power in the city during its existence. Its members to the number of three thousand, were completely armed and equipped. They had batteries of guns and a thorough organization under the command of competent military leaders. All the available arms in the State were in their possession, and the law-and-order people, who were numerous, were powerless to make any effective headway against the ascendancy of the Vigilance Committee.
The community were divided on the subject of this extra legal tribunal, but the majority were largely with the Committee, who did not disband until after they had secured for their partisans the control of the city government, which they held for several years, under the guise of a political organization called the People's Party.Shall the Millionaire Guild be Increased?The Ohio Legislature which meets Monday, will have to discharge the responsible duty of electing a successor to Hon. Henry B. Payne in the Senate of the United States. Upon the action of its Democratic members will largely depend the future of the Democratic party in the Buckeye State. Three millionaires are understood to be aspirants for the position, viz., the Messrs. Brice, Thomas and Bookstaver. Only one gentleman, Mr. MacMahon, who is not a plutocrat, has ventured to announce himself as ambitious of the honor. There is great excitement amongst the masses of the Democracy, who would be greatly disgruntled if some statesman who represents the brains and sterling worth of the organization is not chosen. The record of the party in this line has been in gratifying contrast with that of the Republican party, and it is to be hoped that it may be kept so. The few instances in which it has departed from its rule of electing comparatively poor men to the United States Senate have been supported on other grounds than the wealth of the successful aspirants.
Hon. George Hearst, of California, is a conspicuous instance in point. If there is a typical representative of the Pacific Coast living today it is this energetic miner, sound Democrat and excellent citizen, the least of whose distinctions is the large fortune he has acquired by enterprise and not by speculation. In the case of Henry B.
Payne himself, about whose success over Pendleton such a great clamor has been raised, there was exceptional personal and political merit to make the choice a not unusual one. It would be scarcely wise, however, for the Ohio Democrats to replace one Democratic millionaire by another. It would look as if the fashion had become settled. The Thurnmans, Outhwaits and Converses of Ohio are all opposed to the election of either Brice, Thomas or Bookstaver, and their counsels ought to be heeded. The opposition to Mr. Calvin S. Brice is interested because he is supposed to have obtained a constructive residence inOhio for the purpose of succeeding Mr.
Payne. Both he and Mr. Bookstaver have offices in the city of New York, and spend much of their time there. Both the Senate and House of the Congress of the United States are in great need of real Western men just now.The taxes are now paid, in the main, or will be shortly, and this community has stood the ordeal fairly well, considering their enormous amount, but there is a widespread discontent amongst the taxpayers at their magnitude. The knack of squandering immense sums of money, both by the State of California and the several counties, has been developed to the status of an art. That there is great wastefulness in every direction, cannot be doubted. Especially has this been the case in the matter of street improvements. One of our leading citizens returned from Europe a short time ago, and was presented with a bill of $2,000 for grading and graveling a street in front of his property which he avows could have been done for $500. The rains have swept the gravel all away, and the work has to be done over again. It would help our taxpayers out very sensibly if they could get this necessary work done at fair prices. There seems to be only too much ground for the belief that there are combinations amongst the contractors of Los Angeles which place the taxpayers at their mercy. The case mentioned by us is only one of multitudes.WE HAVE NOT been having all the rain in Los Angeles by any means. The New York World, of the 21st ult., part of the delayed mail which has reached Los Angeles, has a cartoon which is devoted to the dudes of the future. Two of these gentlemen are represented with tarpaulin hats and knee-high rubber boots, raising dismayed faces towards the pouring heavens. The only thing that suggests the traditional exquisite is the never to be separated from big-headed cane. Another issue of the same journal represents Mayor Grant standing with dismayed aspect over an uprooted street which has become a brawling torrent. If misery loves company the residents on Second, Hope and other of our deluged thoroughfares may gather some consolation from the fact that the residents of the metropolitan city of the United States are suffering more than they. This, however, is poor consolation, and the people of both cities would do well to buckle down to the work of making the streets passable.

CRIMINAL NOTES.

John C. Day, the man who eloped with the Parkins girl on Friday night last, was served with a warrant charging him with taking an overcoat from De Turk's stable belonging to W. R. Sampson, before starting on his trip to San Bernardino. He will appear before Police Judge Owens for trial upon the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses today.Fred Nirk was arrested by Officer Harvey last evening at 17 San Fernando street for disturbing the peace of his former wife by threatening to kill her because she refused to live with him again and renew their former relations.
The fellow has several times of late disturbed Mrs. Nirk, and she has had to call upon the public for protection on each occasion. Mrs. Alice Nirk obtained a divorce from her husband about three months ago.

Native Sons' Election.

The Native Sons of the Golden West held a very large and enthusiastic meeting last evening, the occasion being the election of officers. Those elected to serve for the ensuing term were: President, Robert E. McGregor; First Vice-President, W. N. Ent; Third Vice-President, Charles E. Baer; Financial and Recording Secretary, E. G. Taylor; Marshal, George Swain; W. S. Mars-chant, Historian.The installation of the newly elected officers will take place next Thursday evening at N. S. G. W. hall.

Grand and Trial Jurors.

Yesterday Judge Lucien Shaw made an order of court in accordance with the requirements of the code, that there will be needed to do the business of the courts for the coming term 100 Grand Jurors and 750 term trial jurors. The Supervisors will take steps at an early date to have that many names drawn from which to secure juries for the term.

An Important Sale.

S. H. Seymour, of San Francisco, the proprietor of the Russ House, has just purchased a piece of land on West Second street, back of the California National Bank building. This would seem to indicate that there are some citizens of San Francisco who have faith in the future of Los Angeles.

intendent and City Engineer will be present as invited guests. This statement

THE 400'S BIG BLOW OUT.

Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.

New York, January 2.—A $15,000 ball is in progress tonight at the Metropolitan opera house, and the chief executive spirit is Ward McAllister, he to whom is credited the statement that New York's best society consists of only 400. Last April McAllister was rendered very unhappy because Mr. Fish ousted him from the management of the great centenial ball. Then McAllister said he would get up a ball of his own some time and demonstrate what a really perfect ball should be, and tonight's affair is the demonstration. The money was raised by subscriptions from the Astors, Vanderbilts, Dapows, Morgans, Loril-lards, Goelets, Hewitts, Coopers, Chews, Corbines and many others of the 400.McAllister's ideas were being worked out smoothly, when suddenly there came the horrible intimation that he would be threatened with a flood of policemen in the supper-room to prevent the use of wine after 1 a. m. Argument was brought to bear, however, and as a result the Corporation Counsel today notified the police that the ball was a private affair, and the guests had a right to drink all night if they wanted to; whereupon the Police Board notified the force to keep hands off and permit the 800 quarts of champagnes which had been purchased to be drunk at leisure.Invitations were issued to each subscriber with the permission to invite one friend, consequently the number entitled to be present was 1,728. The opera house was decorated in the most elaborate manner, with rich hangings of silks and floral displays. It is the handsomest decoration the Metropolitan opera house has ever seen. All through the corridors and staircases were trees of tropical growth, shrubs of rare culture and blooming flowers, while soft incandescent lights were present everywhere, and in the dim dark vault above a suspended canopy of great size. Perfumed fountains scented the air, and music floated from unexpected sources, the orchestra being hidden.The patronesses of the ball include Mrs. William Astor, Mrs. De Lancey Kane, Mrs. Elliott Roosevelt, Mrs. Philip Schuyler and Mrs. George Peabody Wetmore. They arrived at 10 o'clock and were received by Cornelius Vanderbilt, Byram K. Stevens and Ward McAllister, and escorted to the position where they should receive the guests. At 11 o'clock the dancing floor was astir with promenaders, and soon after the dancing began with the quadrille d'honneur.The supper was served in a room where 1,200 might sit. The lady patronesses were at one table, presided over by Mr. McAllister, who had Mrs. William Astor on his right. Mrs. Grover Cleveland was seated at McAllister's left. At the foot of the table was Cornelius Vanderbilt, with Mrs. Elliott Roosevelt.
Others at this table were Count D'Arcy, German Minister; Secretary of the Navy, Tracy; C. M. Depew, with Mrs. Parson Stevens, and Grover Cleveland, with Mrs. W. C. Whitney. After supper dancing was resumed, and ended with the largest cotillion ever danced in America. There were in it 150 couples.

INFLUENZA.

The Epidemic is Not Nearly so Bad as Reported.New York, January 2.—Dr. George F. Shrady, editor of the Medical Record, in an article upon the epidemic influenza says: There is now no doubt that influenza, or what is popularly known as "the grip," has become an epidemic in this city, and is scattered broadcast over the country. It is also quite evident that its general characteristics correspond with those noted in connection with the prevailing type of malady in Russia, Germany and France.
Fortunately it is of such a mild type that save for its invasion of large districts and for the large numbers of persons attacked, it would be noticed in the category of ailments connected with the usual ones which occur during the winter months, associated with the rapid and varied changes of temperature and humidity. The reports of the fatality of the disease, as might have been expected, have been much exaggerated. Particularly does this remark apply to the alarming death rate in Paris. In point of fact there is no disease with such wide prevalence which has such a comparatively low mortality. In this country, at least, there is yet to be reported the first case of death which can be laid to a pure and simple attack of the disease. Even the serious complications are so few as scarcely to merit the recognition, alongside of those which are constantly occurring with the usual diseases of the season. The after effects of the epidemic will, doubtless, be marked by a feeling of prostration, more or less continued, and a lowering of the health tone. Previously robust persons will quickly rally, while the feeble will require stimulants and tonics for variable periods.

A Land Decision.

WASHINGTON, January 2.—Land Commissioner Groff has rendered a decision upon the application of James W. Barry, of the Fargo, South Dakota, land district, to transmute his pre-emption claim on a quarter section of land, under the date of October, 1888. The filing was rejected by the local land officers on the ground that prior to the date of said act, Barry perfected title to a tract of land on which he made an entry under the homestead law. The Commissioner reviews the evidence and law bearing upon the case and sustains the decision of the local officers.

The Montana Muddle.

CHICAGO, January 2.—The Helena, Mont., Herald telegraphs: At the joint session of the Legislature today the first ballot resulted: Power, 16; Mantel, 11; Hirschfeld, 3; Richards, 9; Thompson, 1. Second ballot: Powers, 35; Mantel, 1. The President announced the election of Hon. T. C. Powers as United States Senator. Powers is a wealthy merchant, and was the late candidate for Governor on the Republican ticket, and was defeated by Toole.About two hours after T. C. Powers was elected by the Republican Joint Convention for second Senator, Judge Hunt, of the District Court, gave his decision in the case of Representative Roberts, of Silver Bow county, who hadapplied for a writ to compel the State Auditor pay to him his salary and mileage as a member of the Legislature. It was thought the Court would decide the validity of the rival Houses, but instead the decision was to the effect that if Roberts was a member of the Legislature he was entitled to his per diem and the mileage. The question of the legality of the two Houses is still undecided. The Democrats again met in joint convention today, and took one ballot, but being without a quorum, the body adjourned.

Desperate Strikers.

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., January 2.—The Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh Company were not successful in their effort to eject the striking miners from their houses today, Sheriff Sutter refusing to act in the matter, as the company declared. Superintendent Haskell declares that he will open the mines on Monday, at any cost, and that the company will break the strike if it costs them a million dollars. The attempt to put new men in next Monday will be resisted, and bloodshed may result, as the Hungarians are desperate.

Mrs. Martin's Daughter.

New York, January 2.—A writ of habeas corpus was secured today from the Supreme Court by Mrs. Martin, mother of Hannah B. Southworth, who recently killed Stephen B. Pettus, requiring the production in court of her unfortunate daughter. The writ was procured in an effort to have Mrs. Southworth removed to a hospital. Mrs.
Martin says her daughter is afflicted with a complication of diseases and is slowly dying.

The Wrong Man Hanged.

TAMPAQUAH, I. T., January 2.—In the Cherokee Nation, in 1886, Dr. Pyle and Mrs. Wm. Kerr were found murdered in their house one morning. John Stephenson, toward whom suspicion pointed, was tried, convicted and hanged. Now comes a startling revelation. On the evening of December 27th a colored gambler named Rogers was fatally injured by a railroad train at Illinois station. Before dying Rogers confessed that he committed the murders for which Stephenson was hanged.

Wool-growers Heard.

WASHINGTON, January 2.—The Ways and Means Committee today heard arguments by representatives of the wool-growers.

FOREIGN MISCELLANY.

Brazilian Crown Jewels Held Subject to Dom Pedro's Order.WASHINGTON, January 2.—The Brazilian Minister has received Rio de Janeiro papers to December 8th, in which are given details of the inventory recently made of the imperial property. The crown jewels, as well as those belonging to the Emperor, Empress and other members of the imperial household, were deposited in the treasury vaults, subject to the orders of the Emperor.
Minister Valente expressed surprise that some American newspapers seem to be still under the impression that the Provisional Government had confiscated the property of the Emperor.

THE LAEKEN PALACE FIRE.

BRUSSELS, January 2.—The damage caused by the fire at Laeken is estimated at $1,200,000. Some priceless statues have been destroyed. The table upon which Napoleon signed the declaration of war against Russia was shattered.
The report that the library in the royal palace was burned proves to be unfounded. A number of important documents, relating to the Congo Free State, were destroyed. The Queen's entire wardrobe was burned. The Queen and Princess Clementine are greatly prostrated.

A LETTER TO BISMARCK.

BERLIN, January 2.—The Reichssonne says: Emperor William has written a letter to Bismarck in which he extends the warmest New Year congratulations, and says the maintenance of peace abroad will strengthen the guarantee of tranquility at home. He expresses gratification at the completion of the workingmen's insurance bill, which, he says, is an important step toward giving effect to the project for ameliorating the condition of the workingmen, which he has at heart. He thanks Bismarck for his self-sacrificing, unwearing co-operation, and says he prays he may for many years be granted his faithful and well-trained counsel in his difficult mission as ruler of Germany.

RUSSIAN OFFICERS ARRESTED.

ST. PETERSBURG, January 2.—Thirty-two officers have been arrested, charged with being members of a secret society, the object of which is to abolish the aristocracy and establish a constitutional monarchy.

STRIKING MINERS.

BERLIN, January 2.—The miners in Breslau have struck for eight hours, an unlimited output and higher wages. The masters and men are negotiating for a settlement.BRUSSELS, January 2.—The strike among the colliers is spreading. At Liege 1,200 miners have joined the movement.

FARNELL SUMMONED.

LONDON, January 2.—A citation to appear as co-respondent in the suit for divorce, brought by Captain O'Shea against his wife, was received by Farnell today.

A THEATER BURNED.

ZURICH, January 2.—A theater here caught fire during a performance last night and was entirely destroyed. The audience reached the streets in safety.

ANOTHER IRISH EDITOR IMPRISONED.

DUBLIN, January 2.—McInery, editor of the Limerick Leader, on trial for intimidation was found guilty, and sentenced to six months' imprisonment.

SPANISH FOREIGN RELATIONS.

LISBON, January 2.—At the opening of the Cortes the King announced the foreign relations of the kingdom, all that could be desired. He reviewed the progress made in the African colonies of Portugal. The King said: "The patriotic aspirations of Great Britain to extend her vast possessions in Africa, have been met at several points by the fixed design of Portugal to maintain her authority over those regions that the Portuguese were first to discover and open to Christianity and commerce, and where the Portuguese authorities had exercised jurisdiction and influence sufficient to indicate incontestible possession.
My Government will endeavor to convince the British Government of our right, hoping to obtain an equal adjustment of all legitimate interests."

The Mortality List.

PARIS, January 2.—Commander William Starr Dana, U. S. N., is dead of pneumonia.TANAGER, January 2.—The United States squadron is here. On the four vessels are forty-eight cases of influenza.LONDON, January 2.—Sadler, the ex-champion sculler is dead.
The Marquis of Salisbury is up and about the house again.
Gayarro, the Spanish tenor, died today of influenza.

NATIONAL PROTOTYPES.

The New Standards Received at Washington.

THEIR PURPOSE AND ORIGIN.

How an International Standard of Weights and Measures Came To Be Adopted.

Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.

WASHINGTON, January 2.—The national prototypes allotted to the United States at the International Convention of Weights and Measures in Paris, in September last, were formally received and accepted by the President this afternoon, in the presence of a distinguished company of Representatives and scientific men. They were brought from Paris in two boxes, carefully sealed and marked, and had been vigilantly guarded from the moment of their manufacture. These new standards were constructed by the cooperation of the principal governments of the world. Their history in brief is as follows: In 1889 the French Government invited the other nations to send delegates to Paris for the purpose of forming an international commission for the construction of a new meter for an international standard of length. The invitation was accepted, and our Government appointed Professors Henry and Hilgard as delegates. In 1875 a treaty was signed at Paris for the establishment of an international bureau of weights and measures. The bureau was established and put under the administrative direction of delegates from the various countries concerned.
A large staff of learned men were employed to study a method for carrying out practically the theoretical requirements agreed upon as necessary by the delegates. The difficulties encountered were all surmounted, and the work was carried to successful completion.
The standards ordered by the various governments were distributed by lot last September.One set of standards, set apart as international prototypes, is kept in a cave at the international bureau. The object of putting them in a cave is to secure them against accident and sudden or great changes of temperature, as it is deemed possible that permanent changes in the molecular structure of the materials of the standards may be brought about by such fluctuations of temperature. No single person can have access to the international prototypes. The cave is locked up by three different keys in the hands of as many individuals, and every conceivable precaution has been taken to keep them inviolable. The standards distributed to the various governments are called prototypes, and the same care will be taken to preserve them unaltered as is deemed necessary for the international standards.

LOS LOGIC.

The Sioux Chiefs Make Some Sarcastic Speeches.WASHINGTON, January 2.—The delegation of Sioux chiefs had another talk with Commissioner Morgan today. John Grass said: "Last summer you sent a man out to my country and they told us if we signed the treaty we would get schools and oxen and wagons and other things promised us in the treaty of 1868, and pay for the land we now sell besides. I see some of the same things are promised in both treaties. My people want to know if we are to have them twice."Mad Bear said: "You sent us three persons to show us how to farm. They can't talk to us. They only make motions with their hands and then go away. We don't know what they mean. If they would plow and sow and raise crops we could see how they did it, and learn to farm better than the farmers you send to teach us."Commissioner Morgan interrupted him to say: "You should learn to understand English, and then perhaps the farmers could teach you."Mad Bear replied: "If we had got schools on the reservations as promised us in 1

MISSING COASTERS.

Alarm Felt for Overdue Vessels.

FOGS MAKE DANGEROUS SAILING.

Anxiety for the State of California.
The Wild West and Others Reported Missing.

PORTLAND, January 2.—A special from Astoria says: The steamer State of California left here at 4 p. m. Sunday, December 29th. At 4:15 this afternoon she had not yet arrived at San Francisco, being now fifty hours over due. There is great uneasiness felt. Thick weather has been reported along the coast all week. Goodall, Perkins & Co., of San Francisco, telegraphed to this city three times today. The last telegram was received at 4:15 this afternoon, saying a revenue cutter had been sent in search of the missing vessel, and asking that the revenue cutter Thomas E. Corwin, now here, be sent southward. She will start tomorrow morning.

SAN FRANCISCO, January 2.—The agents of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company say they have no apprehension for the safety of the steamer State of California, due from Portland, as the State is one of the finest and staunchest in the coast trade. They think some of her machinery has broken down, or that she was compelled to put further out to sea on account of heavy weather. The revenue cutter Richard Rush is understood to have instructions to go out and search for her this evening. The steamer Ajax will be due tomorrow morning from Ocos bay, and it is thought she will bring news of the State. The Santa Rosa and Pomona, which leave for the north tomorrow, have instructions to look out for the vessel.

PORTLAND, January 2.—General Manager Smith, of the Union Pacific, was seen tonight in regard to the steamer State of California, reported overdue at San Francisco. He said he was of the opinion that the vessel had met with some accident to her machinery, but would come out all right.

ALARM FOR THE WILD WEST.

ASTORIA, Ore., January 2.—The steam propeller Wide West left here December 26th for Seattle. Up to late this afternoon she had not arrived. Several telegrams of inquiry regarding her were received today. She broke one of her twin propellers, coming down the river. When starting Captain Sparling was warned not to go to sea, but he crossed the bar safely, and was seen afterward by the steamer Signal, steaming northward. She had only three days fuel aboard.

LATER.—A special dispatch from Seattle to W. E. Bailey, President of the Puget Sound Transportation and Lighter Company, owners of the steamer Wide West, says she put into some bay Tuesday and will arrive soon.

THE DEARBORN BOTTOM UPWARD.

PORTLAND, January 2.—A telegram has been received from Seattle, stating that the schooner Dearborn, from Port Blakely, has been seen bottom upward, north of the Columbia river. A steamer starts from Fort Canby to make a search.

SNOW IN THE SIERRAS.

The Central Pacific Blocked—A Snow Plow Wrecked.

SACRAMENTO, January 2.—A severe snow storm prevailed last night and today in the Sierra Nevada mountains. The snow is drifting badly, and the Central Pacific Railroad Company is experiencing considerable difficulty in keeping the road open.

The snow-plow met with an accident this evening, and six locomotives and one hundred men left Alta to clear the track. The overload due in San Francisco at 11:45 tonight, is detained in snow-sheds, and will not get through until morning on account of the accident.

FIVE HUNDRED TURKEYS FROZEN.

WELLS, Nev., January 2.—A carload of live poultry from Kansas en route to San Francisco, arrived here this morning with all the turkeys, five hundred in number, frozen to death. They perished last night in transit from Ogden.

DEEP SNOW AT PORTLAND.

PORTLAND, January 2.—About nine inches of snow fell here last night, being the heaviest snowfall for five years. The thermometer is 16 above zero. A great many people are enjoying the novelty of sleigh riding.

Shot at a Shooting Match.

ALBANY, Ore., January 2.—In Benton, yesterday, a party of young men were engaged in a shooting match. Otto Stone, a son of a well-known bridge-builder, fired at a target and then went around behind the target to note the effect of his shot. George Thorpe, who was the next to shoot, did not observe Stone's whereabouts and fired at the target. The ball passed through the target and struck young Stone in the breast, killing him instantly. Thorpe and Stone were cousins.

Struck With an Ax.

PHOENIX, Ariz., January 2.—John E. Pool and William Collins, ranchers living three miles from the city, had a dispute this afternoon. Collins jumped off a load of hay he was on, and Pool struck him on the head with an ax. Collins will probably die. Pool is in jail.

A Stale Rumor.

SAN DIEGO, January 2.—It was reported this evening that Governor Waterman, through E. F. Spence, of the Los Angeles National Bank, had sold the celebrated Stonewall mine, in this county, to a syndicate of English capitalists, for $2,400,000.

Not in a Padded Cell.

CARSON, Nev., January 2.—Today Frank Craven, a teamster confined in the County Jail on the charge of insanity, attempted suicide by breaking his head against the wall. His skull was fractured, and he is not expected to live. He is widely known throughout Nevada.

An Old Offender Captured.

PRESCOTT, Ariz., January 2.—James Lee has been brought in from Apache county, where he was arrested by the Sheriff of that county for train robbery. Lee is a noted desperado, whom the Sheriff has been trying to secure for a long time.

Lightweights at San Jose.

SAN JOSE, January 2.—A large crowd was present at the San Jose Athletic Club rooms this evening to witness the fight between Jimmy Murphy, of Australia, and Harry Jones, of San Jose.

The contest was uneventful with the exception of the last few rounds. In the eleventh round Jones got in a couple of ringing blows and knocked Murphy completely out. Betting was two to one in favor of Murphy. Billy Murphy, brother of the defeated pugilist, challenged Jones and the latter said he would fight him if Murphy won the contest with Ike Weir.

Willful Murder.

WILLIAMS, Cal., January 2.—E. D. Matheson, who was shot in a saloon yesterday by Joseph Casey, died this morning. The coroner's jury this afternoon charged Casey with willful murder.

A Derelict Chief.

STOCKTON, January 2.—The Police Commission tonight rendered findings in the investigation into Chinese gambling here, and found Chief of Police Fowler grossly derelict in the discharge of his duties.

Trains Reach San Diego.

SAN DIEGO, January 2.—The first train in eleven days from Los Angeles arrived this morning. The bridge at Rivera has been repaired and trains will run regularly after tomorrow.

Throats Cut by a Burglar.

PHILADELPHIA, January 2.—Sarah Kelly, aged 81, and Ann Kelly, aged 79, sisters, had their throats cut last night, by some one unknown. The women lived in a little frame building at 206 Winter street, and were awakened by an intruder after they had gone to bed last night. The man demanded money, and when they declared there was no money in the house, he slashed each one across the throat with a knife. The women were removed today to the hospital and may recover.

Triumphed Over La Grippe.

CHICAGO, January 2.—Verdi's opera, Otello, was produced tonight for the first time in America, at the auditorium. The stage setting was magnificent to a degree rarely equaled. The production of this opera had been postponed twice on account of the illness of the great tenor, Tamagno, but he was on hand tonight, having fully triumphed in his struggle with la grippe. Madame Albani appeared as "Desdemona."

What Is Life Without a Wife?

NEW YORK, January 2.—A Japanese artist named Tsudo cut his jugular vein today and died. Desertion by his wife made life not worth living.

WAUSAU, Wis., January 2.—In the town of Stettin this afternoon, Herman Friedrichs, aged 21, shot Bertha Erdman, aged 20, and then himself, because she refused to marry him. Both will die.

A Victim of La Grippe.

NEW YORK, January 2.—Ellen Carroll, 38 years old, the mother of four children, flung herself from a third-story window this morning while delirious from a violent attack of la grippe, meeting death.

George H. Boker Dead.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., January 2.—Hon. George H. Boker, ex-Minister to Turkey and Russia, died at his residence here this morning.

Something for the New Year.
The world-renowned success of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and their continued popularity for over a third of a century as a stomachic, is scarcely more wonderful than the welcome that greets the annual appearance of Hostetter's Almanac. This valuable medical treatise is published by the Hostetter Company, Pittsburgh, Pa., under their own immediate supervision, employing 60 hands in that department. They are running about 11 months in the year on this work, and the issue of same for 1890 will not be less than ten millions, printed in the English, German, French, Welsh, Norwegian, Swedish, Holland, hemian and Spanish languages. Refer to a copy of it for valuable and interesting reading concerning health and numerous testimonials to the efficacy of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, amusement, varied information, astronomical calculations and chronological items, etc., which can be depended on for correctness. The Almanac for 1890 can be obtained free of cost from druggists and general country dealers in all parts of the country.

Inherited Scrofula.

Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) cured my little boy of hereditary scrofula, which broke out all over his face. For a year he had suffered, and I had given him all kinds of medicine, when at length I decided to use S. S. S. After using a few bottles he was entirely cured. Not a symptom now remains of the disease. This was three years ago.

MRS. T. L. MATHERS, Mather'sville, Miss.

TRADE MARK

S. S. S.

In the early part of last year I had a violent attack of rheumatism, from which I was confined to my bed for over three months and at times was unable to turn myself in bed, or even raise the cover. A nurse had to be in constant attendance day and night. I was so feeble that what little nourishment I took had to be given me with a spoon. After calling in the best local physicians, and trying all other medicines without receiving any benefit, I was induced by friends to try Swift's Specific (S. S. S.). I discontinued all other medicine, and took a course of S. S. S. thirteen small bottles, which affected a complete and permanent cure.

NEWS OF THE RAIL.

Rumored Changes in the Santa Fe Office.

THE TRAINS ALL RIGHT AGAIN.

Damages on the Santa Ana Division of the Southern Pacific—Trains from the North.

It is said on what appears to be excellent authority that some very important changes are about to take place in the personnel of the offices of the Southern California Railway Company in this city. If what is said is true, and there is probably no doubt of the fact, the company is about to lose the service of several of its oldest and best men. The reason which is assigned for the changes is that of reducing expenses. It has all along been held by the authorities of the company, in the East, that the office had a larger number of men than was necessary and a cut of some kind, either in salaries or in the number of men, has been expected for some time.

Mr. H. B. Wilkins, who was the predecessor of Mr. Hynes in the offices in this city, has been transferred from the position of General Freight and Passenger Agent of the Sonora division, to the same position on the Mexican Central. It is believed that Mr. G. H. McMillan, who is chief clerk of the freight department in this city, and Mr. K. K. Kye, clerk of the passenger department, will take positions on one of the Mexican lines. It is understood that their resignations have been tendered. These are two of the most popular and most efficient of the younger railway men of this section, and they have a very large circle of friends who will be sorry to learn that they are to leave this city.

It is also stated that G. W. Sanborn, the Superintendent of the road, and H. C. Whitehead, the Auditor, will both resign. What arrangement will be made with regard to filling these positions, is not known, but it is believed the work will be consolidated as far as possible for the purpose of having fewer high-salaried officers. Messrs. Sanborn and Whitehead are both men of high standing for their ability as railway officers, and for their personal qualities.

All trains were running on the Santa Fe line yesterday without transfers or interruptions of any sort. A freight car ran off the track yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock, a little way beyond Highland Park. The accident was due to the spreading of the rails. No damage was done.

Number 19 from the North on the Southern Pacific failed to get in yesterday morning at the time that it was expected, but put in an appearance at 8:30 in the evening in three sections. It brought several hundred passengers for this place and the East who had been delayed in the North by the closing of the line. Number 20 left for the North two hours late. It was a very big train, composed of two sections, each of them crowded with passengers.

The work on the Santa Ana division has proven somewhat more extensive than was anticipated, and it probably will not be finished and the trains run until tomorrow morning. This line passes through the district where the wreckage of the storm was most severe. A spectator describes it as looking like the pictures of the Johnstown disaster. The barrels and hogheads of the Nadeau winery are scattered along for a distance of several miles. Two of the larger buildings are entirely demolished, no visible remnants of them remaining. The other two buildings are very much damaged. In one place a farm-house was picked up and floated some distance, and finally deposited right across the railway track. The work trains are still engaged on the Santa Barbara line.

A Phillips excursion went out last night and a Walters excursion came in.

THE FIRE BOARD.

A Number of Changes in the Department.

The regular weekly session of the Fire Commissioners was held yesterday morning in the Mayor's office, President H. T. Hazard in the chair, and Messrs. Keefe and Moore present.

On motion of Mr. Keefe, the Council was requested to pass an ordinance authorizing the laying of an asphalt sidewalk on Los Angeles street in front of Engine House No. 4, as it was necessary for the cleaning of the fire hose.

The petition of the California Bank for permission to place a new boiler in lieu of the old one in the basement for use in connection with the elevator, was referred to the Chief Engineer with power to act. A petition signed by Councilmen McLean, Summerland, Van Dusen, Hamilton, Brown, Schafer and Frankenfeld, for the immediate reappointment of Will Stormer as an engineer of the department, was laid over until the next meeting.

The resignation of Frank Norman was accepted.

The Chief Engineer reported the following changes in the department: W. L. Register as driver of Engine No. 7, in place of S. A. D. Springer, deceased; W. J. Gardiner as driver of Hose Cart No. 7, in place of Charles Goff, who will drive the hook and ladder truck; Thos. Birch as callman, in place of W. L. Register; Jas. Kibray as callman, in place of W. J. Gardiner; John Springer as callman, in place of F. Norman, resigned; and Chas. Fink as callman, in place of Sam Gowan, resigned. On motion of Colonel Moore, all the appointments as recommended by the Chief were confirmed and the report adopted unanimously.

The claim of M. A. Willoughby against Will Kutz for $12.65 was referred to the Chief.

Circulars and telegrams with reference to the prices of hose for the department were received from J. S. Naimish, Boston Woven Hose Company, and J. W. Grivans & Co., and the same were placed on file.

A number of demands aggregating $549 were approved, and the board then adjourned.

December Arrests.

The Chief of Police's report for the month of December last past, which was presented to the Board of Police Commissioners at its meeting, contains the following summary of the arrests made by the department during that time: Assault with a deadly weapon, 2; begging, 11; battery, 16; burglary, 1; cruelty to animals, 1; drunkenness, 84; disturbing the peace, 26; false pretenses, 2; false driving, 1; fraud, 11; misdemeanor, 7; seduction, 51; suspicious persons, 3; vagrancy, 14; violators of city ordinances, 23; witnesses, 3; total, 247. In addition to those above mentioned, there have been registered at the Police Station 27 persons for medical treatment, 78 lodgers, 27 lost children, while 43 loose horses have been taken up and impounded. The estimated value of lost and stolen property recovered by the police force during the month amounts to $650. The jail has been thoroughly renovated, and a number of improvements made, and the Police Headquarters have been very much improved.

THE BANK'S SIDE.

They Did Not Have McDougall Arrested.

Yesterday the case of D. A. McDougall against the Los Angeles National Bank occupied the attention of a jury before Judge Wade. The defense had the stand all day. The principal witnesses were Captain Darcy, the Chief of Police at the time, who held McDougall; F. C. Howes, the cashier of the bank, and Major G. H. Bonebrake, the President. The testimony of these three gentlemen was in the main the same. Not to go into details, the bank's side of the question as developed from the three witnesses here named is substantially as follows: McDougall had gotten $1,500 on a draft from New York, and it turned out that the bank making the draft had suspended. It had been agreed that the money should remain in the bank until remittance came from New York, extending $200 which it was agreed McDougall might draw out. In violation of this compact he drew it all out. Mr. Howes confessed that he had been negligent in signing a certified check for $500 of the money, but claimed that he had to do this so often that in this case he did not ask his clerk who the check was for. When it was discovered that the bank at the East had gone under, an attempt was made to get the money back for McDougall, or to get security from him for the indemnity of the Los Angeles bank. McDougall refused to do either. Darcy was then called in, not as Chief of Police but as a private person, to help get the money back. By Darcy's aid Van Luven was sent to Elsinore with McDougall, to try and get the money, but the bank did not say or do anything to have him appointed a Deputy Sheriff, nor did they give him instructions to arrest McDougall. He went as a private agent of the bank, as far as the bank had any knowledge of the affair.

When he returned here and no money was obtainable Mr. Howes, Major Bonebrake nor any one connected with the bank had no hand in having him arrested. Captain Darcy testified that he did not arrest McDougall, and he put on Officers Fletcher and Roberts who corroborated what he said in this respect. The bank thought that there was reason to believe that McDougall knew of the failure of the bank in Canada before he drew the money out of the Los Angeles National Bank. His story that he had not gone to the postoffice to ask for mail, the fact that he came here and drew all the money out the very day he put it in the bank, after agreeing not to take out more than $200, and on the day before the news came here by way of New York in the mail, that the Canadian bank had gone under, made a chain of suspicious circumstances on which Darcy, acting as Chief of Police and on his own motion, held McDougall as a "suspect," a thing often done. He was not arrested by anyone; he was merely retained as a "suspect," and that was all.

The jury has both sides of the testimony before it, and yesterday Hon. S. J. White argued the case for an hour. The argument will be finished today, and then the jury will take the case for deliberation and decision.

West Enders.

The West End Board of Trade met on Wednesday evening, at its rooms at 1210 Temple street. B. M. Bartels was unanimously elected a member of the board. The Chairman of the Fire and Water Committees reported good service. E. E. Galbrith was added to the Park Committee. The Secretary was instructed to procure copies of the different annuals published by the daily press.

The following motion was passed as the sense of the board:

Resolved, That it is the sense of the West End Board of Trade that we hear with displeasure and disfavor of the vetoing by the Mayor, of the ordinance for the re-grading of Temple street.

It was the sense of the meeting that the people bordering on Temple street should cooperate with the West End Board of Trade to take the earliest possible action for re-grading Temple street, and that the citizens be invited to meet with the Board of Trade at its next meeting for that purpose.

The Secretary was instructed to notify the Street Superintendent to notify the Temple-street Cable Road Company not to place any more sandbags on the street at the corner of Beaudry avenue and Temple street; also to request the Street Superintendent to place signals on such public highways as are now impassable by reason of the recent rains.

The invitation of the Crown Hills Board of Trade to meet with it next Friday evening and join in the discussion of a thoroughfare into the business portion of the city was accepted.

December Health.

The Health Officer reports sixty-three deaths for December. Of these 4 were caused by typhoid fever, 17 by phthisis pulmonalis, 4 by convulsions, 4 by pneumonia, 3 by diseases of the liver, 3 by inanition and 3 by violence; 37 were males and 26 females. The Fifth and Ninth wards had the best record, only three deaths occurring in each, and the Second ward headed the list with fourteen deaths. Diphtheria was reported in the First, Second, Seventh and Eighth wards, and scarlet fever in the Second, Third and Sixth wards. There were eight typhoid fevers reported during the month. Of these thirty-nine were males and forty-four were females. Two of the latter were colored.

The Reform School.

The corner stone of the administration building of the State Reform School, at Whittier, will be laid with appropriate ceremonies at 11 o'clock a. m. on Wednesday, January 29th. The idea of any State building being erected south of Tehachapi is so novel that it will attract unusual attention. Arrangements have been completed for accommodating an immense number of people at Whittier on that day, and there will be brief addresses, grand music and some of the Spanish-Americans of the Los Nietos valley will entertain the people with an old fashioned barbecue, to be followed by a free lunch.

Committee Meeting.

The committee to secure $35,000 in real estate before February 10th, as the first step toward saving the Young Men's Christian Association building, consisting of H. W. Mills, L. Stewart, J. S. Slauson, A. E. Pomeroy, H. L. Macnell, M. L. Wicks, L. Bixby, William Niles, S. A. Brown, A. Meyer and H. E. Storrs, held its first meeting at the office of A. E. Pomeroy yesterday at 3:30 p. m. Their first action was to add the name of G. D. Compton to the committee. It was stated that much depended on their success; that they must secure the amount named by February 10th, or it would be impossible to secure the $25,000 cash subscription before March 15th, and that both these steps must be taken or the building must be sold for debt. They decided upon immediate work, and will hold their second meeting Thursday, January 9th, at No. 16 Court street, at 3:30 p. m., to report progress. They will then report to the public the names of real estate contributors, and the gross amount as nearly as that can be estimated. They decided to invite volunteer subscriptions of real estate.

An Entertainment.

The Young Men's Literary Society will meet this evening at the Caledonia hall, No. 38 South Spring street. The following will be the programme: Piano solo, selected, Miss Wagner; valedictory address by the retiring president, Frank W. Allender; inaugural address by the President-elect, Byron L. Oliver; address, "Objects of the Society," Recording Secretary-elect, Eugene Kohler; address, "Financial Success," Financial Secretary-elect, Frederick B. Kitts; address, "Progress of the Society," Treasurer-elect, H. C. Jackson. Debate: "Resolved, that more poor boys have become famous than rich ones." Affirmative, K. D. Morris and William Ferries, negative F. A. J. Gallwas and James Bethune.

Occidental University.

The winter term of this institution opened yesterday. Everything in connection with the building was in good condition for opening, and the only effect of the great storm was to adorn the surrounding plains and hills with even a more beautiful carpet of green. At the opening new faces appeared in the University chapel, owing to the consolidation of the two institutions, McPherson Academy, 528 Grand avenue, and the University. Professor Parkhill, recently principal of the Academy, has been added to the faculty of the University. The number of students present at the opening was very encouraging, and a large increase is expected at the beginning of next week.

The Illinoisans.

The social by the Illinois Association this evening, at Illinois hall, Fort and Sixth streets, will include a programme of musical and literary selections, besides the social, in which everybody is invited to participate. There will be a pleasing variety of instrumental music with piano, cornet, guitar, violin, harmonica and banjo, by Misses Nellie and Minnie Conner, the Toler sisters, Belle Barr, Messrs. Billings, Bradley and Moray; recitations by Mr. Tompkins, Mr. Patton, Misses Blanche Bradshaw and Florence Archer; vocal numbers by Misses Toler, Mr. Toler, Miss Gilbert, Mr. Dupont, Miss Penning, and Messrs. King, Stevens, Wallace and Hearse.

The Los Angeles County Bank.

The Herald publishes in another column today the usual semi-annual statement of the Los Angeles County Bank. The conservatism of this old institution, from its very organization, makes the present showing only a counterpart of those which have proved it for many years, and renders unnecessary any further comment.

C. H. MERRILL, Manager (during the summer season manager of the Crawford House, White Mountains, N. H.)

If you cannot go out to The Raymond and spend a day, a week, a month, or the whole season, then go out and stay a few hours. It is well worth your while to see the magnificent view from its piazzas; and that view alone will well repay you, although there are many other interesting features—especially the grand display of flowers in the hotel grounds, which are now under the charge of Mr. C. H. Hovey, the celebrated landscape gardener, formerly of Hovey's Nurseries, Cambridge, Mass. Tourists visiting Los Angeles should make a trip to The Raymond, even if their stay there must necessarily be brief. There are frequent trains between Los Angeles and The Raymond by several lines of railroad. The orchestra consists of four soloists, who render the choicest of music twice each day.

A very complete livery is connected with the hotel, and it is an excellent starting-point for a drive through the San Gabriel valley, in which are situated the San Gabriel Mission church, Rose's winery, Lucky Baldwin's stock farm, the Sierra Madre Villa, and many other places of interest.

Full particulars regarding board and other matters can be obtained by addressing C. H. Merrill, Manager of The Raymond, East Pasadena, California.

AT ALL DRUGGISTS.

Mrs. Holmes' statement.
 Editors HERALD—Since in your issue of December 23d you publish charges calumnious to my character, made by Mme. d'Aubigny, it is but just to expect an assignment of similar space to explanatory facts, which, in justice to myself, I am forced to relate, that those who know me may judge whether I am guilty of blackmail, theft, treachery, intrigue and imposture; for of such proceedings I am charged.

I was first attracted to Mme. d'Aubigny by her eccentricity, her age, infirmity and her apparent isolation. My inquiry resulted in an interview at her apartments, where I was cordially treated, and invited to call again at an early date, when I would be further entertained by the exhibition of other and rarer things in her strange collection. As I am fond of the antique, I decided to avail myself of her seeming civility. On the occasion of my visit to the "Hadjis," as she claims to have been professionally called, a business proposition was made as follows: I would be expected to prepare articles from her dictation, in the nature of advertisements, and arrange for their publication in the city papers, distribute circulars before service on Sunday in the pews of the Catholic churches, call upon persons of wealth and appreciation who would be most likely to take effect sales, for which service she promised suitable remuneration, and more than I could hope to earn elsewhere under existing circumstances. Taking the Madam at her word, rather than a written agreement, as is customary in such cases, I first prepared a somewhat lengthy article and invited her inspection of it before submitting it to the press.

As her eyesight is weak, and her hearing impaired, she declined its examination and intrusted the arrangement entirely to me. After finding a publisher for the paper, I commenced my calls upon the wealthy, devout, learned and appreciative individuals most likely to look with favor upon her foreign bric-a-brac, heirlooms and relics. Everywhere and at all times I was most graciously received, but in almost every instance the "Hadjis" collection of quaint articles was "unavailable."

I had labored faithfully, fearlessly, in the damp, the gloom, in the deluge, and in discouragements greater than all these, with results not unprofitable to Madam d'Aubigny, as many promised to give her place a call, at my request, who would not otherwise have done so.

I never went to the "Hadjis" hungry or thirsty, or destitute or desperate, but I did go; first, as a seeker of knowledge, and as an invited guest; latterly, as a commissioned agent under promise of compensation.

I deeply regret having appeared to the public in this unenviable attitude. It is a notoriety most offensive, entirely unwarrantable, and one which I have in no way invited. Actuated by a spirit of philanthropy, I neglected my regular work to serve an old, infirm and almost helpless woman. I have been compensated by slander, ridicule, satire, contempt and irreparable injury.

The crumb of comfort extracted from this disgraceful affair is in the thought that I am not alone in my injured innocence, as many well known and respected persons' names are likewise victims of the "Hadjis" displeasure.

On the whole, it may be intentional, and one of her means of advertising, for there is more than one "Hadjis" in that antiquated "Hadjis" than is dreamed of in our philosophy.

PERSONAL.

Judge Silent recently paid a visit to Santa Ana.

Truston Clark went to Santa Ana on Monday last.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hale, of Oakland, are visiting the city.

A. E. Pomeroy went north to San Francisco yesterday.

Miss Hilda Mattson, of Santa Monica, was in the city yesterday.

J. W. Scott, of Santa Monica, came in for a short stay yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Montgomery were in from Monrovia yesterday.

F. W. Hopps, of the firm of Hopps and son, is paying Los Angeles a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Remington, of Catalina, came over to the city yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Hurst, of Oregon, are spending the winter in this part of the State.

E. A. Rogers, of Etiwanda, was in the city yesterday, having returned from the East and South, where he went last May.

Mrs. Henry Sheppard, Miss Sheppard and Miss May Sheppard, of Springfield, Mo., are visiting the city.

Judge R. Egan has gone to Santa Ana. The portion of the distance which he did not walk he traveled in wagons and on railroad trains.

Senator J. R. Lowe, of Santa Clara, returned home yesterday with Mrs. Lowe. He has been for some time looking after the State Reform School at Whittier.

A party consisting of Mrs. E. Gaty, Miss Ella Gaty, Mrs. E. W. Gaty and son, Miss Ada Gaty, of St. Louis, and E. W. Gaty, of Santa Barbara, are visiting the city.

W. A. Rennie, the well-known excursion manager, arrived in the city Wednesday evening, after a ten days' visit to San Diego. He was much elated at finding a nine-pound boy, who had put in an appearance while he was away.

J. S. Woodruff, Chicago; Charles H. Brown, Louis C. Brown, J. M. Moorhead and F. J. Biven, San Francisco; M. P. Chubb and D. S. Guild, Orange; Josiah Atkins and wife, St. Louis; J. B. Webster, Spokane Falls, are at the Westminster.

NEWS NOTES.

Services will be held at the Synagogue this evening at 7:30 o'clock, and tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

The Los Angeles County Medical society will meet, this evening, in rooms 12, 13 and 14, old Wilson block.

The Union Chautauqua meeting will be held next Tuesday, evening at 7:30, in Trinity M. E. church South, 422 South Fort street.

It is rumored that another new bank will soon "materialize" in this city, the location being on Fort and Sixth streets, in the Illinois hall building.

The W. C. T. U. will meet this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Temple block. Miss M. H. Hathaway will lead, taking for her subject "Ye Are Not Your Own."

Transfers of real estate yesterday amounted to $89,429, and were 43 in number. Of these 14 were for more than $1,000 each, and 17 were for nominal considerations.

The officers-elect of Stanton Post, No. 55, Grand Army of the Republic, and Stanton Relief Corps, No. 17, W. R. C., will be publicly installed at G. A. R. hall, 29½ South Spring street, this evening.

D. W. Hamlin, County Auditor, has purchased ten acres in the McLain 94-acre tract, near Alosta; price, $125.

per acre. Mr. Hamlin has sold this land once for $200 per acre, and considers it a great bargain. Wm. Lordan made the sale. Miss Itonia and James McLain, of Pasadena, are the joint owners of the tract.

The "Soap Bubble" social, under the auspices of the Young Ladies' Foreign Missionary Society, which was postponed on account of the storm, will be given in the parlors of Fort-street M. E. church tonight. All are cordially invited.

Three of the members of the Southern California Citrus Fair Executive Committee, Messrs. Germain, Denker and Gray, met yesterday morning and adjourned until 10 o'clock next Saturday, at which time the attendance of the members from the outside is expected.

The Crown Hills Board of Trade will meet tonight in the Union-avenue M. E. church, just south of Temple, so as to have room to accommodate those interested in making a thoroughfare of Second street to the west city limits. City Engineer Eaton and the West End Board of Trade will join in the meeting by special invitation.

A report was current on the streets yesterday that a well-known tradesman named Dwyer had left his down-town store on Wednesday evening last for his home with $1,000 cash on his person, but had not since been heard of, and no trace of him could be found. Up to a late hour last night, however, no such case had been reported at Police Headquarters.

Yesterday afternoon as car No. 41 of the Olive-street line was being driven along Spring street, near Third, the coupling pin was jerked out of the singletree, and the heavy wooden trees fell upon the horses' heels. The animals jumped forward, jerking the lines out of the drivers' hand, and bolted down the street with the clattering trees still hitched to their traces, and ran into the carriage of Mr. M. S. Severance, which was standing opposite the Hollenbeck hotel. The team attached to the carriage was thrown down, breaking the pole short off, but the runaways swung round and ran down Second street to San Pedro street, before being brought to a standstill.

R. D. List, Notary Public. Legal papers are fully drawn. 18 S. Spring. Depositions taken.

MRS. C. D. STUART.

Mrs. C. D. Stuart, of 400 Hayes St., writes, "I have for years had spells of indigestion and dyspepsia, and tried nearly everything. Finally I took a well known Sarsaparilla. It caused pimples to break out on my face without helping me. Hearing that Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla did not contain mineral, and might act differently, I sent for it. The pimples disappeared immediately, and I had no more returns of the old spells." Although the above was written a year ago, Mrs. Stuart now attests the permanency of its effects. Says she takes an occasional dose to suppress a symptom of return and that she has perfect command over her old trouble.

Head, Throat and Lungs

Successfully treated by

M. HILTON WILLIAMS, M.D.

M. C. P. S. O.,

BY HIS COMPOUND OXYGEN

AND OTHER

MEDICATED INHALATIONS.

Catarrh, Bronchitis and Consumption, etc., are now conceded to originate from living germs or parasites, millions of which exist in diseased surfaces.

Our Hot Medicated Inhalations kill and destroy these germs when nothing else can reach them, while our COMPOUND OXYGEN antagonizes and thoroughly removes every poison of the system from the blood, no matter from what cause it exists or how long it has continued, and is efficacious in the cure of Catarrh, Throat Diseases, Asthma, Bronchitis, Consumption, Nervous Prostration, Incontinence and Dyspepsia, etc., together with any poisoned condition of the blood.

In all cases of Catarrh and other diseases of the Respiratory Organs, where the system suffers from the deleterious effects of scrofula or other vitiated condition of the blood local treatment is invariably conjoined with constitutional remedies.

Persons desiring treatment by this system of practice can use the remedies at home as well as at our office, and which will cause no inconvenience or hindrance to business whatever.

I have seen so many of these cases cured that I do not consider any case hopeless, unless the disease has advanced to the chest and both lungs are seriously involved. The inhalations aid in dissolving the mucus and in connecting and healing the cavities, which nothing else can do with the same success.

The very best of references from those already cured.

Those who desire to consult me in regard to their cases had better call at the office for an examination, but if impossible to visit the office personally can write for list of questions and circular, both of which will be sent free of charge. Address
